THE STORY OF A TRAIN CRASH

What happened in Bahanaga Bazar railway station at 6:55 pm on June 2 that switched the Coromandel Express to a loop line where an ore-laden goods train was already standing?

COVER STORY

Fast track to disaster

16/ The gruesome tragedy that befell the Coromandel Express in Odisha on June 2 prima facie points to a system that is accustomed to taking shortcuts in maintenance works and signalling processes, compromising on safety to ensure that trains run on time.
